

THE REQUIREMENTS GAME

Many play, few master.

We create masters.

WANT TO LEARN MORE ABOUT HOW MITHUN CREATES MASTERS?

At our special session you can learn what skills make the difference between a good requirements engineer and a great one. We show you what it takes to transform a simple request into well thought-out requirements that will make your project a success.

In addition, this session will be an opportunity to:

- Learn how you can create Requirements Engineering Masters in your company
- Experience the value requirements engineering practices can bring to your project
- Discuss how our requirements engineering masters can make your project a success from the start!

Find a session that fits your requirements!
